Vandalia Community Preservation Association to Celebrate 20 Years Featuring a Soup Supper and Gospel Concert with Lloyd Wood and Friends

Members of the Vandalia Community Preservation Association (VCPA) are gearing up for a celebration in honor of their twenty years in existence. Founded in 1995, the VCPA exists to preserve, restore, and maintain the Vandalia Chapel and School House located in Vandalia, Indiana.

On Sunday, October 25, at 4:00 p.m., the VCPA will host a Soup Supper and Gospel Concert featuring Lloyd Wood and friends. Tickets for the event will be $10, and will include chili, drink, and homemade pie; as well as admission to the Lloyd Wood concert. All proceeds will benefit the VCPA for the preservation of the Chapel and School House.

The event will also include a silent auction. All auction items will be on display at the Carnegie Building in Spencer Tuesday, October 20th through Friday, October 23rd, from 8 o'clock a.m. until noon. Those interested in bidding are encouraged to place their bids during those hours. Bids will also be accepted at the event, and winners will be announced that evening. All proceeds from the silent auction will also benefit the VCPA. A complete listing of auction items will be run in a later Evening World article, and can also be found on our VCPA website and Facebook page.

T-shirts will also be on sale for $12 at the event and feature a rendering of the Vandalia Chapel. Various sizes will be available and proceeds benefit the VCPA.
